

CHENTO

BODEGA CUARTO DOMINIO

MALBEC Vineyard Selection

In honor of the people who labor in the vineyard of Mendoza, Chento is the fulfillment of their hard work and passion.

For over a century, our past generations have produced grapes and wines of quality and authenticity from the foothills of the Andes Mountains. This single vineyard wine of unique character is named after "Chento," the guardian of our estate for over 40 years.

Chento Vineyard Selection comes from a careful selection of three different parcels from our La Consulta vineyard.

Winemaking

The wine goes through a cold pre fermentary maceration to preserve primary aromas, then a series of delestages and pumpovers during fermentation for a more balanced extraction. The juice is fermented for about 14 days at low temperatures and it is followed by a post fermentation maceration.

The wine spends around 10 to 12 months in 100% French oak.

Tasting Notes

The Chento Vineyard Selection Malbec has a profound dark, violet color with rubicund highlights. In the nose it has black fruits, spices and violet aromas followed by some mineral and graphite notes. Great concentration and very well balanced acidity along with soft silky tannins, ripe plum and chocolate flavors with a persistent finish.
